PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I frequently use this forum to encourage our membership to take a more active role in the Maryland Token and Medal Society. This column is no different although I have employed a slightly different format to discuss why it is so very important for each of us to help support our outstanding organization. We all have different capabilities, backgrounds and experiences that we can positively bring to bear to help MD TAMS grow and become even better and stronger. We need everyone's help. Consider taking a more active role no matter what the task or job. The key word/theme is VOLUNTEER.

V - Is for the Void that you can fill. There is much work to be done for Maryland TAMS but never enough folks to help.

O - Is for the Office that you might take. We can always use new blood in our officer/director positions. Run for office.

L - Is for Lending a hand. Contribute in whatever way you can. Work on a committee. Plan a meeting at a special location.

U - Is for the Unique perspective you bring. We have different backgrounds/experiences. You might provide that new idea.

N - Is for the Need for your help. There is always a need for a helping hand. It seems like the same few do all the work.

T - Is for the Team you will be a welcome part of. This is your organization. Do your part to make it stronger and better.

E - Is for the Energy you will add to our organization. An organization can be larger than the sum of its individuals.

E - Is for the Extra load you will carry. There are numerous opportunities to help MD TAMS, pitch in - it will be appreciated.

R - Is for the Results you will see. You will feel good that the organization did something because of your efforts.

The next time we have a vacant office, or need a committee member, VOLUNTEER. The next time our Journal Editor asks for articles, VOLUNTEER. You get the idea so I will not prolong this any longer. This is YOUR organization - - help keep it strong.

Edward L. Craig

President, MD TAMS

Letter From Russ Sears –

Hi Will:

I thought you might like to put the following in the Maryland TAMS Journal.

The Carroll Mansion was the home of Charles Carroll of Carrollton, last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence, only Catholic signer, prominent Baltimore businessman and perhaps the wealthiest man in America in his day. The Mansion, part of the Carroll Museums is located at 800 E. Lombard Street, near the Jones Falls Expressway. In addition to the Carroll Mansion, the Carroll Museums include the Phoenix

Shot Tower.

At the present time, and until September 30, 2007, a "Save the Shot Tower" exhibit is featured in the Historic Jonestown Visitor Center. The exhibit highlights the 1924 movement to "save the tower", without which, we would not have a Shot Tower today. The ephemera in this exhibit is on loan from Maryland TAMS member Russ Sears.

Thanks,

Russ

2006 MD TAMS ANNUAL MEETING IN REVIEW

Millard W. Hajek

Our MD TAMS 2006 Annual Meeting was held on Saturday, July 15th in concert with the Baltimore Coin and Currency Show at the Baltimore Convention Center. A pretty good attendance of 25 members enjoyed the happenings. Highlight of the meeting was the presentation of Literary awards to all members who contributed to our Maryland TAMS Journal.

The following members were presented a "2005 Literary Buck" for their contributions to our journal over the past year 2005.

Bernie Bodt
James M. Boswell
Edward L. Craig
Millard W. Hajek

John R. Hammond
Robert W. Ruby
Jane Sears
Russ Sears

James C. Shipley
W. Wallace Stone
Roger P. Winter

Winners of the "A. Vernon Taylor Literary award" for the year 2006 were:

First Place - Millard W. Hajek for the article "Baltimore Bygone Breweries"

Runner-up - Russ Sears for the article "The Embossed Charge Plate - Hutzler's Baltimore"

Each winner received a framed certificate, a gift card from Staples and a 5-coin elongated set commemorating the 300th anniversary of the Baltimore Harbor.

The 2006 Membership Award developed into a very close horse race between Jim Boswell and Bob Ruby with Bob capturing the framed certificate by one new member near the end of the competition.

Elongated coins dominated the Give-aways at the annual meeting with each member in attendance receiving the following elongated coins.

300th Anniversary
Port of Baltimore
(U.S. 2006 nickel)

300th Anniversary
Port of Baltimore
(U.S. Commemorative State Colorado quarter)

MSNA & Salisbury CC
Ocean City coin show
(U.S. 2006 nickel)

In addition, each member also received a folder with the following reprinted articles from ANA's Numismatist.

A Study and Catalog of 19th Century Photographic Tokens by David M. Gale and Charlotte Gale
Numismatic Tributes to Albert Einstein by Harry Flower

Counterstamped Stone Mountain Half Dollars: Where Are They Today? By Adna G. Wilde Jr.

The Medalllic Art of Baltimore Sculptors Hans Schuler & Hans C. Schuler by A. Vernon Taylor.

A 5-coin elongated set rolled on a U.S. 2006 nickel, 2000 U.S. Commemorative State Maryland quarter, U.S. Susan B. Anthony dollar, U.S. Sacagawea dollar, and an Ocean City, Maryland generic arcade token commemorating the 300 anniversary of the Baltimore Harbor were available for sale at $5 per set. All 22 available sets were sold with another 3 sets reserved for prizes.

An item of significant business occurred at the meeting. The mechanics were set in motion to raise our annual dues from $7.50 to $10.00 effective immediately after our 2007 annual meeting.

The latest reference by a MD TAMS members was unveiled at the meeting. "Maryland Wooden Nickels" authored by Joe Burford was offered for sale to the members at $20 per copy. Members can order a copy by mail but must include $5 for postage and handling. The reference is over 180 pages and contains over 1446 different woods with pictures to help the user.

A modest auction followed the meeting with some lots commanding spirited bidding from the members.

The 2007 MD TAMS SWAP MEET

Millard W. Hajek

The 2007 Annual Swap Meet was a moderate success with 15 club members in attendance to take advantage of some heavy buying, selling and trading. Well, I can vouch for that because I certainly put a dent in my wallet. Those members that attended were: Dot Hajek-Chief Cook and dish washer, Mill Hajek, Ed Craig, Bob Ruby, Russ Sears, Jane Sears, Bernie Bodt, Bill Lenz, Joe Burford, Marge Burford- Chief Cake Maker, Jim Shipley, Bryce Doxzon, Wally Stone. Molly Stone and Len Cicero. A total of 8 members set up their wares on a table to do business. Members received notice about the Swap Meet in our Society's MD TAMS Journal and more than 30 post cards were sent to members who had attended in the past as a reminder of the event.

Those that attended wish to thank our refreshment committee Dot Hajek for providing Sloppy Joes, Hot Dogs, Brownies and Cheese Curls; Marge Burford for her delicious Chocolate Cake and Ed Craig for providing the sodas, cups and ice. After all the expenses and income from sales and donations were added up, the Swap Meet was able to contribute $5 to the Book Fund so our thanks to those that purchased food items at the Swap Meet.

Some members provided Mill Hajek with their unlisted tokens information to add to our club project of compiling unlisted tokens.

CLEARING OFF THE OLD DESK PROJECT

OR

WHAT IS A COLLECTOR TO DO WITH ALL THE DEAD END STUFF THAT'S TOO GOOD TO THROW AWAY AFTER ALL THESE YEARS.

BY: W. Wallace Stone--R-47

My desk is a source of intrigue many times. I come across items left that once appealed to me as a basis for a new article or at least, further research! A few of these can be found in David E. Schenkman's "Maryland Merchant Tokens" book and have been cataloged and received a Maryland reference number according to city, town or state location. Some of the tokens include a brief notation as to history, location or time of operation. Others have no notations. These interest me !

Sometimes information becomes readily available and tracing a tokens journey is easy. Other times limited history or time of operation can only partially be obtained. Then a third route surfaces, that of "not much". This last category is the king of frustrations. For those tokens in this group obtaining information at times seems a daunting undertaking. Where to look, where to start, what years should be considered as possible leads ?

Larger cities, such as Baltimore, Frederick, Cumberland that may have had a city directory compiled is a good starting point. Although some time cities and towns have been known to discard older editions at the time of a new printing. What a shame! As their past is thrown away..... Another source of invaluable information can frequently be obtained from the Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps from a number of towns and cities, size alone does not determine who is covered. Usual information found on these, block by block maps, would include a company name, possible nature of business, in the case of non commercial the building could be described as "residential". A multi office building would be difficult to further enhance. Sanborn was established in 1867. One further source of information available is the collection of the Baltimore Sun Newspaper from the year 1837 through current editions recorded on micro film. This can be particularly helpful if a token or commemorative piece lists a date or dates of an event such as fairs, parades, inaugurations, anniversaries. Chances are favorable that there is a story in the paper either prior to or just after the event, as was the custom in the by-gone days of journalism, it was, by todays standards, very wordy. Few if any details would have been left out. These are by no means the only sources available that may be used to research the past when compiling facts. The ones listed above are the more obvious.

The following Maryland tokens are on the list that need further facts to complete a short biography or index, to what is known at the present time by the author.

Unlisted Maryland token.....S D B, round, plain edge, incuse lettering and design, BALTo under a 5 leaf pedal design, 20mm. Reverse is blank.

Old style lettering in SDB and BALTo. Unable to locate any information. Oyster/ fruit Packers, canning company, merchant ? Five years looking and no further along.

Bluthenthal & Bickart Inc..... Listed in Maryland Merchant Tokens book as B 190. This distiller started in business about 1906 in Baltimore and was located at 301-307 East Lombard Street from 1908 to 1915. Appearance in Directories from 1908 through 1915. Aaron Bluthenthal became president of Roxbury Distillery and Monroe Bickart became a manage for Roxbury Distillery at a later date. What happened to the Company ? No further clues.

Howard's/303/Second St. Balto.

Reverse, 2 ½ within circle of rays. Aluminum. Unable to locate any information. Earlier directories show two listings for a Second Street and a 2nd Street in Baltimore. Listed in Maryland Merchant Tokens as H-195

National Junior Republic

Also referred to as the "George Junior Republic" National Junior Republic was organized and operated in Annapolis Junction, Maryland beginning 1899 as a trade type school for orphaned or disadvantaged young boys under the age of 18. The tokens were given as payment for labor preformed by the boys. Denominations ranged between one cent and one dollar. The Maryland Archives from the year 1917 show the State contributing $3,000.00 towards an annual school budget. No later date of State financing has been found. The question is....what happened to the Junior Republic project and what year did operations cease ? New York and Pennsylvania still maintain and operate a George Junior Republic in 2007.

Aluminum 25 in value, 29mm, plain edge.

S.S. Coston, Annapolis

Aluminum tokens, a 21mm with 5 within rays and a 24mm, with one gallon on the obverse and 20 within rays on the reverse. This could have been an oyster or seafood packing company. There is a listing in one of Russell Rulau's token Books as well as David E. Schenkman's Virginia Tokens book for "Coston and Blades" Located in Hampton, Virginia. Possibly they operated a branch in Annapolis for a short period of time. Perhaps the tokens were made but the move never materialized. Old records in Annapolis fail to record any evidence of this Company.

Middle States Regatta.

These are "Regatta Officials" Committee Member Badges. Inscribed as the City of Baltimore and the Maryland Yacht Club hosting the event. This rowing competition began in 1885 and was held in Philadelphia and Baltimore on a rotating schedule. This was a popular spectator event held on Labor Day week end beginning west of the Hanover Street Bridge in downtown Baltimore. No further information past 1932 has been located. Today Maryland Yacht Club is aware of the regatta but has no history or records of later dates....Did World War 11 curtail such events in the name of National Emergency.?

Woodlawn Fire Co./Beer/Check

Located in Baltimore County, there are two Woodlawn fire houses, within a few blocks of each other, one is a volunteer unit the other is a county station. This token has a Schenkman number of W 5, is brass, octagonal, 25mm. Telephone interviews with both station Chiefs' produced no indication as to the tokens function or time frame. Most likely used at a fund raiser, neighborhood carnival or fair. When did this happen and for how many years? The Volunteer Station originated Shortly after World War 11 using an existing Civilian Defense building in suburban Baltimore.

Annual Water Carnival Round Bay on the Severn

This 33mm copper medal issued by the Round Bay Community some time after 1920 to herald the Labor Day weekend festivities held at Round Bay on the Severn River in Anne Arundel County. This Carnival started in 1920 and attracted large numbers of swimmers, divers, canoer's and outboard motor boat racers, in classes of motors under 3 horse power as well as a class for over 4 horse power. During the 1927 carnival there were over 200 participants in over 21 different events, with a reported attendance of just over 5,000 . The question is , how long did this water carnival remain a late summer “happening”? Some reports indicate the middle 1950’s while others have claimed knowledge of this until the early 1960’s. Who knows for sure ? Just seems to have faded away.

I would have a suspicion that most readers of the Maryland Tams Journal would also possess a list of tokens that lack finality in their history similar to these. Any information regarding the eight tokens in this short list, that a reader might wish to pass on would be greatly appreciated. An e-mail address may be found at the conclusion of this article

If asked which of the aforementioned tokens might be in the category of the always elusive “EUREKA” type, I should feel the unlisted token with the three incuse initials S.D.B. BALTo. would have to be the one. Speculation can lead to a combination of names that might have been partners in a business venture , “Sims, Davis & Baldwin” , as an example, the list could be lengthy. This token was purchased from a local coin dealer in the Baltimore suburbs, who stated at the time of the sale, he had bought the token while on vacation in southern Florida. Old S.D.B. has been residing in a small wooden box on my desk for at least five years in the hope that some unexpected day new light would surface and a final chapter can be completed !

Casino Poker Chip Personal Store Card

John Hammond

As an avid chip collector, I recently had the opportunity to add an unusual Casino Type Poker Chip to my collection. The chip is a personal store card for Ricky Pushkin. Unfortunately, the black and white color of the chips pictured in this article takes away from its very unusual colors.

The outer ring is yellow with purple coloring around the playing card suits of hearts, diamonds, spades and clubs on both the obverse and reverse. The center of the obverse is black with yellow lettering and red and purple chisel shaped pieces behind the lettering. A grayish-purple strip runs above the lettering. The lettering is Ricky Pushkin / LM -6038-134 / R-583 / PO Box 51 / Stevenson, MD / 21153. The center of the reverse has a background of United States currency behind the yellow lettering with a bust profile facing right in an oval with a black background. The lettering is www.all-chips.com / LTD. 250. The chip is illustrated below.

UNLISTED TOKENS UPDATE

Millard Hajek

To date, I have cataloged over 550 tokens including many Harford County packing and pickers checks. This number of tokens represents 121 towns and includes 51 new towns not listed in the original Maryland Merchant Tokens book published in 1986.

Contributors to date include the following members: Bernie Bodt, David J. Bohaska, James M. Boswell, Joe Burford, R. Lee Burton, Jr., George E. Chevallier, Jr., Edward Craig, Harry Crow (now deceased), Millard Hajek, John Hammond, Richard Kaminski, Willard Mumford, Frank & Jan Pugliese, Russ Sears, James Shipley, Wallace Stone, and Ronald A. Ward.

There is still time to include you're unlisted tokens from your collection so send me your listings!

THE LOUIS L. GOLDSTEIN TOKENS AND STATUE.

W.WALLACE STONE..R- 47

Over the past few years there have been numerous articles, biographies and sketches on the life and times of Louis L. Goldstein, Maryland's longest elected and serving public official. I shall not try to add to or improve any of these existing works. There have been two articles which have appeared in the Maryland Token and Medal Society Journal, Winter issue of 1990 as well as the Spring issue of 1998, which gave history and details of the Louis L. Goldstein token from its initial date of release.

The tokens are aluminum, plain edge, anodized in a golden color with a high sheen and measure 38mm in size. There are two types as issued, the type 1 token has no date indicated, where as the type 2 has the date of 1994 included on the top line of the obverse. The tokens, were given by Mr. Goldstein during his re-election campaigns in his last two elections in much the same manner as the Mardi Gras "throws" are used in New Orleans. Mr. Goldstein, the State Comptroller died suddenly while in office on July 3, of 1998. Shortly after his passing the State began plans for the creation of a statue to commemorate his long standing service to the State of Maryland with the cooperation of the Department of General Services. Bids were sent out by the Maryland Commission on Artistic Property to well known sculptors throughout the United States and Canada encouraging them to apply for the job of creating an 8 foot tall statue of Louis L. Goldstein. The commission received 23 submissions from which five Maryland finalists were selected. In February of 1999, following a presentation by each, a final decision was reached and the selection was made to award the contract to Jay Hall Carpenter of Gaithersburg, Md.

Jay Carpenter, a professional sculptor for 24 years, is well known as the creator of the original carvers models for more than 500 sculptures that are featured at the Washington National Cathedral. Many American churches contain his works, as do the State Department in Washington D.C., as well as the Smithsonian Museum, and the New England Medical Center. Mr. Carpenter was elected into the National Sculpture Society before he reached the age of thirty, and has won numerous national awards for his works.

The Goldstein statue, is located at the corner of Calvert Street and Bladen Street in Annapolis, on the front lawn of the Treasury Building that bears his name. The eight foot high bronze statue depicts Mr. Goldstein in an informal, posture, as if about to greet a friend, and say "God bless you all real good." In his right hand he holds a coin, similar to the tokens given away by him to those he met, any place any time. One of these tokens was set under the statue during its installation. Careful attention to every detail was followed in the creation of the sculpture, including the Marine Corps tie bar to the Maryland State Seal signet ring placed on his left hand beside his wedding band. Governor Parris N. Glendening dedicated the statue in Annapolis on Sept. 3, 2003 along with other State dignitaries.

The Louis L. Goldstein tokens were issued in two types depending on the year of issue. Type 1 was issued for the re-election campaign in 1990. The type 2 is dated on the top line as 1995-99. Reverse is the same for both years.

In Memory of R. Lee Burton, Jr.

Maryland TAMS mourns the loss of R. Lee Burton, Jr. who was an avid member of MD TAMS and collector of Eastern Shore memorabilia. In 1986 Mr. Burton published a book, Canneries of The Eastern Shore, which has become the definitive reference for Eastern Shore cannery tokens. Lee Burton was a true gentleman always willing to share his knowledge with any who sought it. He served as an Army officer in both World War II and Korea, he taught in the public schools, and for almost 20 years he served as an administrator in the Maryland civil service. He graduated from Salisbury State College and obtained a master's degree from the University of Delaware. A native and life-long resident of Cambridge, Lee Burton will be sorely missed by all who knew him.

The Maryland Eastern Shore Hockey Association

BY: W. Wallace Stone. R- 47

I came across a new (at least to me) token recently while traveling on Maryland's eastern shore in and around Talbot County. The token is a round, reeded edge, 25 mm plastic issue of the Eastern Shore Hockey Association. This organization is based in Easton and uses the Talbot County Community Recreation Center complex located directly on Maryland route 50 for it's activities.

I was able to learn some details regarding this relatively new organization from their web page as well as an employee of the Community Center. Their creed is as follows; "The program is designed to provide players with an organized, fun atmosphere where they can learn and enjoy the game of Hockey. The program accommodates players from 7 to 14 years old with two divisions: Senior and Junior. The Senior Division is typically ages 12 to 14 and the Junior Division is usually ages 7 to 11. Players are rated in the beginning of the season based on skill level and then divided evenly among the teams in their division to provide the fairest and highest level of competition possible." All home games are played at the Talbot County Community Center.
